

REGULATIONS FOR THE PARTICIPATION OF BIODIV PhD STUDENTS TO ADVANCED COURSES

1. In the case of being accepted to a course, you are obliged to attend. If for some reason you cannot make it, you need to notify the post-graduation office at least a week prior to the course. Students who fail to notify on their absence will be excluded from a set of three future courses.
2. The participation to all theoretical and practical sessions of the courses is obligatory, and missing sessions is only allowed due to exceptional reasons, which need to be justified by e-mail to the course organizers and the post-graduation office. Missing course sessions without a serious justification will lead to failing the course.
3. The participation of all students will be formally evaluated and approved by the course instructors based on daily participation to all course sessions and fulfilment of course requirements and evaluation tasks
